Let's Start!

It's a barbecue! Let's help Jason and his mother in the kitchen!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use basic information in simple situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like to cook? Why or why not?
- What food can you make?

Can Do Statements

- I can express commands, like "Make the salad".
- I can express quantities using words like many and a lot of.
- I can use vocabulary to talk about cooking.

Let's Explore!

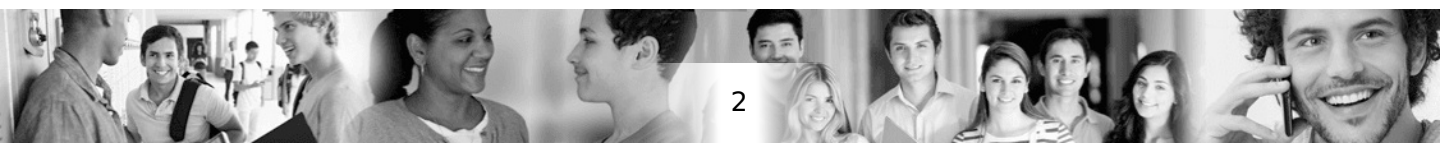

Jason and his mother make food for the barbecue. Are there any burgers?

* "Burgers" is the short form of hamburgers.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Mom: Jason, can you make the pasta salad and the spinach salad?
Jason: Sure.
Mom: Boil some water.
Jason: How much water?
Mom: A large pot. Wash the spinach and cut the tomatoes.
Jason: How many tomatoes?
Mom: Six or seven. Chop some more vegetables. Then, add them to the salad.
Jason: Next?
Mom: Take the hot dogs and burgers out to the barbecue.
Jason: I'm sorry, I need to wash my hands first. Okay.
Mom: After that, come back for the lemonade.
Jason: The food looks great, Mom!

Let's Practice!

Please* chop the vegetables. Help Jason make the salads!

* Mom likes to say "please" and thank you with friends and family. It show good manners.

Instructions: Match the two parts of the sentence.

- | | |
|---------------------|---------------------------|
| 1. Chop some | a. many tomatoes? |
| 2. Then add them | b. back for the lemonade. |
| 3. How | c. of salad, please. |
| 4. Make a lot | d. more vegetables. |
| 5. After that, come | e. to the salad. |

Let's Practice!

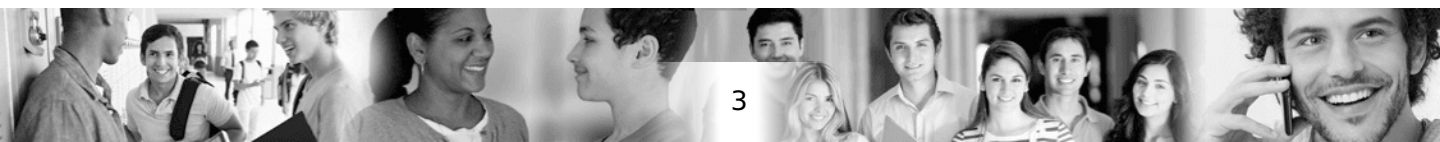

How much or how many?

Learning Points

The Imperative

You use the Imperative to give instructions.
The Imperative only has one form. You do not use a subject.

Examples:

- Boil some water.
- Cut the vegetables.
- Wash the spinach.

Much and Many and A Lot Of

You use many in questions with count nouns to ask about a number.
You use much in questions with non-count nouns to ask about an amount.
You use a lot of in questions with count and non-count nouns.

With Count Nouns (books)	With Non-count Nouns (water)
How many ... are there?	How much ... is there?
Use many with a plural verb.	Use much with a singular verb.
Are there a lot of cookies?	Is there a lot of water?
Use a lot of with a plural verb and count nouns.	Use a lot of with a singular verb and non-count nouns.

Examples:

- Mike: How many tomatoes are there?
- Julie: There are four tomatoes.
- Mike: How much water is there?
- Julie: There is a lot of water.
